

Try, Live, Again

Hoping in vain. Hoping insanity's sunlight and tears are rain.
Hoping again. Grace to the one inside.
Praying in tears. Praying while weeks pass like minutes and hours like years.
Praying in fear. Grace to the one outside.

You try to comprehend it and it makes you go insane.
You're trying to withstand it. Can you try live again?
You try to contain it but you can't fool the pain.
You try to explain it. Will you try live again?

Feeling the cold. Feeling it burn you right up from within your soul.
Feeling again. Grace to the one inside.
Soaring with love. Soaring so high you look down at the skies above.
Soaring again. Grace to the one inside.

You try to comprehend it and it makes you go insane.
You try to withstand it. Can you try live again?
You try to explore it but it's taking out your brain.
You try to ignore it. Will you try live again?

Seeing the light. Seeing the world and it never looked quite so bright.
Seeing again. Grace to the one inside.
Hearing someone. Hearing something that like nothing turns you on.
Hearing again. Grace to the one inside.
Hiding in joy. Hiding in something so weak no one can destroy.
Hiding again. No trace of the one outside.

You try to understand it and it makes you go insane.
You try to comprehend it. Will you try live again?
You try not to give up but you can't recall your name.
You try hard to live on but you won't be the same.

Nothing but a want. Nothing but a need.
Just another dolphin lying on the sand, staring at the sea.
